

Sister Parish Guatemala Representatives Meeting

February 22-23, 2014

This year's representatives meeting opened on a cool and sunny Saturday morning. The wind swooned through the Sister Parish Center as representatives from each community gathered for the first time this calendar year. The meeting's educational topic, "Migration," outlined the reasons people immigrate/migrate and the root causes. Guatemala's Directiva (advisory board) is also managing the absence of former President Juan due to health issues. Representatives called Juan over speaker phone to give him words of encouragement and sung "We Give Thanks, Lord" and "B'antiox". The representatives also spoke of ways they could support the Sister Parish families that are dealing with the recent loss of family members.

Representatives expressed their thanks to the filmmakers for their time, energy and dedication.

Educational Topic: Immigration and Migration

Presented by Ely Lopez Huinil

Why do people immigrate or migrate? What are their specific reasons? The speaker opened the conversation by questioning the representatives in order to identify the root causes of immigration/migration. Participants' responses included economic gain, violence, improved education, and a better life in general. The speaker then added that there are many reasons individuals and groups move and in order to resolve any determining factors it is important to address the root causes. In the context of Guatemala, one root cause for immigration/migration is land (the lack of land or conflict around ownership). The speaker gave the specific example of Cajola, a municipality of Quetzaltenango, where many residents have migrated to other parts of Guatemala or the United States. The movement of residents has had positive and negative effects on the community of Cajola, as well as the tangent communities created by the dispersing of the original Cajola population. Some negative effects immigration has had on the Cajola population are the lack of incentive for those who stay behind to continue working and/or finish their education. The most obvious positive effect on people affected is material gain. The community association in Cajola works with youth and adults in the community to provide practical solutions and alternatives, such as carpentry classes, support in the making and selling of crafts, and early childhood education.
